

When Irish eyes are smiling at nature

A childhood immersed in art and nature led to artist Eimear Maguire establishing her own creative brand Dollybirds Art in 2013. Eimear's paintings are a celebration of the diverse natural beauty found throughout Ireland, from plants to bird life, and each piece is the culmination of time spent in nature developing ideas, and hours of sketching before each artwork is brought to life with colour. Hand-painted in gouache, this Palm House A3 print is produced in Belfast using FSC certified thick paper and archival inks.

Palm House, £30; dollybirdsart.com or @dollybirdsart

PRINTING AND DISTRIBUTION BY PRESSREADER Pressreader.com +1 604 278 4604
 ALL RIGHTS RESERVED BY APPLICABLE LAW

pressreader

Laws of the jungle

A passic
 inspi

Words:
 Ft: Andrew Ja
 pr PWC Me

Pourmaras being apartment in Ay
 suffering from a
 was a lovely proj
 a lot of period fe
 much a beige bo
 Used to renting
 didn't bother th
 Initially but as it
 to get more inve
 we've taken up t
 the wooden floo
 curtains and pu
 operation, inject
 We thought if we we'd lose value if however, as we g
 chose not to pay
 try painting a we can always pain
 we painted dark
 We loved it and I loved it so then v everywhere. We interiors we just before to go for I Another thing
 here in cannot outdoors and in love of plants. "V
 but I'm also a flo
 year during lock