ABOUT

ART FOR NATURE LOVERS

A childhood immersed in art and nature led to artist Eimear Maguire to establish her own creative brand Dollybirds Art in 2013. Her paintings are inspired by nature, the seasons and all the small moments of a quiet day outdoors. Each painting is the culmination of time spent in nature developing ideas and many hours of sketching before everything is brought to life in the studio with colour.

Originals and prints are available in her Belfast studio and stocked in leading stores including Avoca, The National Trust, Anthropologie along with selected independent stores throughout Ireland, the UK and USA. Prints have been featured in Elle Décor, Image Interiors and living and Irish Country magazine. Botanical prints were featured in the Ikea Spring 2018 advertising campaign and in the 2021 BBC DIY SOS series. New seaweed prints are now proudly displayed in The Dead Rabbit New York & soon in their new Austin bar.

PRESS & STOCKISTS

Stocked in leading stores including Avoca, The National Trust, Kew Gardens London, along with selected independent stores in Ireland, the UK and the USA. Our wholesale prints and notebooks are available to stockists around the world. We are always happy to welcome enquiries from potential new stockists who are looking for unique items to offer their customers. We also license our artwork to Artfully walls in the US.

Dollybirds Art was awarded runner up in the gift category of the prestigious 2017 Irish Made Awards. Our botanical prints were featured in the Ikea Spring 2018 advertising campaign, Elle Decor and in the 2021 BBC DIY SOS series.

SUSTAINABILITY

Our prints are produced locally using FSC certified and archival paper. Each is hand signed with longevity in mind, they are made to be treasured for many years to come. Printing in small batches means there is zero stock waste. We use sustainable packaging, clear compostable vegetable starch envelopes and recycled card back. All packaging is either compostable or recyclable. Notebooks are printed on recycled paper using water based inks.

SEAWEEDS

Hand signed by the artist.

Printed in our Belfast studio using fine art paper and archival inks to produce a print that can be treasured for a lifetime.

Each painting has taken around seven months to slowly hand-paint, working to build up layers of paint and colour to reflect the richness, depth, detail and individuality of each seaweed. Creating pieces that remove distance, connect the viewer to the Irish coastline and the sense of calmness that comes from standing by the Atlantic Ocean.
