ABOUT

ART FOR NATURE LOVERS

A childhood immersed in art and nature led to artist Eimear Maguire establishing her own creative brand Dollybirds Art in 2013. Her paintings are a celebration of the diverse natural beauty found throughout the island of Ireland and of her many experiences outdoors.

Each painting is the culmination of time spent in nature developing ideas and many hours of sketching before everything is brought to life in the studio with colour. Created entirely by hand using techniques which have taken a lifetime to perfect. Images are painted in meticulous detail and tell their own unique story of nature. They each celebrate the wonder of nature and little things that mark the changing of seasons.

Prints are produced in Belfast using fine art paper and archival inks. Each is hand signed with longevity in mind, they are made to be treasured for many years to come.

Perfect displayed as a single statement feature or as a set to add elements of nature to any home.
